

Still Waiting ...

for lawmakers to

- » Get control of the bureaucracy
- » Measure the economic impact of new regulations
- » Weed out ineffective regulations

What employers are saying

365 supporting companies

- “Communities have a right to expect that regulations imposed are reasonable, economic and conform to basic science principles.”
- “Immediate regulatory relief is necessary to avoid a deepening jobs crisis.”
- “If there were only one [regulation] that would be easy. It is all of them added up that make it almost impossible to grow in CA.”
- “It is not about a single regulation, it is about an attitude of no respect or concern for businesses of any kind in this state.”

San Diego Union Tribune May 12, 2010

- “When it comes to a state government trying to help the private sector to create jobs, these sort of measures are as basic and obvious as it gets. Yet they have been languishing for months.”

Only 3 weeks left in the session

Demonstrate your commitment to improve government decision making and signal that California welcomes long-term job creation and economic growth. Many bills to improve regulations and assist employers have failed in the legislature.

We urge you to reconsider these failed bills
